INTERNATIONAL ENTREPRENEUR SEMINAR IN CHICAGO - May 14, 2012

Highlights Five Days of Business Development Activities

CHICAGO, IL - Entrepreneurs and representatives of small businesses from the United States and offshore will meet during the International Entrepreneur Seminar scheduled at 9 AM., Monday, May 14, at East-West University, 816 S. Michigan Ave. Chicago.

“Presenters from Russian, Turkish, Tajik, and US enterprises, will introduce varied business concepts and case studies for success for new business opportunities”, commented the event’s chair person, Dr. Jamaluddin Husain, Director of the Small Business Institute at Purdue University Calumet, in Hammond, Indiana, and a prominent consultant who has assisted with entrepreneurship development in Eurasia and Central Asia. “There already is strong interest in this event with registrations from Turkey, Uzbekistan, Azerbaijan, and Iran,” added Professor Husain.

This event is one of several programs scheduled with the Seventh Annual Silk Road Conference located at multiple venues throughout the region, from Monday, May 14 through Friday, May 18. It is designed to bring US and foreign business representatives together for business development.

Because of limited seating, early registration is suggested and there is no registration fee for this event. A plenary session is scheduled that afternoon at East-West University; the main session of the Seventh Annual Silk Road Conference is scheduled on Tuesday, May 15, at Illinois Institute of Technology’s Kent School of Law Auditorium, 565 W. Adams St., followed by three days of small highly focused business development Events and “one-on-one” meetings with trade personnel.
